Everything Old Is New Again! Tri-Pride 2003

It is with great Pride that the Waterloo Wellington Regional Pride Committee would like to announce that at the meeting of August 19, 2002, the name of our organization has changed. We are now known once again as Tri-Pride. The name was changed in conjunction with our bid for incorporation as a non-profit charity. Our previous name of the Waterloo-Wellington Regional Pride Committee had the possibility of implying linkage to a governmental office and could not be used for incorporation. Although there were many suggestions for our new moniker, when the debate and voting was over, Tri-Pride was the clear winner. Many will remember that Tri-Pride was used previously and it is now back to stay.

Once again thank you for your support over the last year and here's hoping you will give the same support to the new and improved Tri-Pride 2003 Committee!

This newsletter is produced by volunteers on a monthly basis to keep everyone informed about what's going on in regards to the Pride 2003 celebrations and other LGBT events in and around our area.

This newsletter is not restricted to any one sexual orientation or any one set of views. It does not necessarily reflect the personal views of the 2003 Steering Committee.

Publication of names, photos of any persons, organizations, events or businesses does not and should not be taken as an indication of sexual preference. Items submitted for publication are subject to editing by the current Managing Editor in the interest of space.

All proceeds from Pride Pages go directly to help finance our local Pride Celebrations.

Meet the Pride 2003 Steering Committee!

Suzanne Botsford (Chair) was the Pride 2002 Volunteer Coordinator and returns to Pride 2003, bringing with her amazing energy, sense of fun and enthusiasm. Suzanne has a background in social work and experience in working with families, troubled youth and sexual abuse.

Dave Olesen (Vice Chair) brings a personal commitment to the local LGBT community. Recently he has been involved in facilitating the youth group at ACCKWA as well as playing a pivotal role in Pride 2002 by serving as both site coordinator and events supervisor. It all goes to show that sometimes there is little truth to all those "dumb blonde" jokes.

Craig Hunter (Treasurer) has done fund-raising locally, nationally and internationally. Educated at the Ontario College of Art and the U of W, he has worked with a wide variety of organizations including the Toronto PWA Foundation, Casey House, the International Court System, and the Names Project (the AIDS Quilt). Craig was recently elected to the national board of Directors for the Co-operative Housing Federation of Canada. He is also the Chair for the LGBT Caucus of the Co-operative Housing Federation of Toronto.

Melody Alderwick (Secretary) graduated from the Waterloo Lutheran Seminary with her Masters of Theological Studies, with a focus on women's counseling, in particular lesbian relationships. Melody has spent a large number of hours volunteering for community associations and events including Pride 2001 and Pride 2002.

Richard Sickinger (Events) brings to the table fifteen years of experience working in the not-for-profit arts sector. Which means he has no knowledge of "the real world" but knows how to do lots with little. As an incurable optimist, he actually looks forward to working on Pride 2003 and incorporating some of the experience he gained as Events Director on the 2002 committee.

Angie Keen (Volunteers) has volunteered for a number of groups, including Security at Pride 2002. In addition, Angie is on the Maintenance Committee at Bread & Roses Co-operative Homes. Angie is looking forward to being involved in this year's celebration.

Lynn Tilley (Publications) works for Re/Max Twin City. Lynn brings new enthusiasm and lots of volunteer experience with Girl Guides of Canada, Blood Donor Clinic, Cancer Society, and last but not least Pride 2002. Lynn has previously worked on a newsletter committee, which she enjoyed very much and is looking forward to working with Pride Pages. In addition to her volunteer work, Lynn also sits on the Board of Directors at Bread & Roses Co-operative Homes, is the liaison for B&R BUDS committee and the B&R social committee.

Cheryl Macdonald (Fundraising) was born in a trailer park. Raised by a crack addict mother (which would explain her foul mouth) and a priest for a father, Cheryl likes to sky dive naked. She has a pet alligator and an emu. Cheryl hates to read, write and do arithmetic. Currently single and available, Cheryl is 32 but usually acts five.

Thom Ryan (Marketing/Web) comes to the committee with a strong background of local LGBT volunteer stints including GLOBAL, ACCKWA, Pride, the KW Gay Youth Group and national/international volunteer work such as EGALE and INTERPride. An experienced professional web designer, Thom currently works in local not-for-profit marketing and national security.

The last Steering Committee position was vacant at press time due to a resignation.

Bang Bang Ladesh: Big Bold and Beautiful!

Exclusive interview by Miss Morgan James

I recently had the chance to sit down and have some girl talk with the current reigning Miss Club Renaissance, Bang Bang Ladesh. I managed to scribble down a few notes between the laughs for this exclusive Pride Pages interview. I'd like to thank Miss Bang Bang for a fun evening, the Pride Committee for the opportunity and that really cute guy from Tab A Slot B Productions for taking pictures.

You were crowned Miss Club Renaissance on May 9, 2002. How long had you been doing drag at that time?

It seems like forever! I had been doing drag for almost a year by the time the contest was announced. Before that, I had been coming out the club for a few months, mostly on Friday and Saturday nights when someone suggested that I come and watch one of the open drag nights. It sounded interesting so I came out to watch. After the show, I talked with some of the performers who told me how much fun performing was. A month later I performed for the first time doing Barbie Girl with another performer. And here I am now as Miss Club Renaissance!

I know from experience that a queen's work is never done, especially when she's a reigning titleholder. What do you hope to accomplish for the community as Miss Club Renaissance this year?

Of course, I'd love to visit other communities to promote Club Renaissance, especially with all the exciting changes that are going on in the Club right now. I also want to help promote the Kitchener-Waterloo area as being open and inviting to the gay and lesbian community. I want to invite people to come down and see how great it really is here. It's nice to have a comfortable gay atmosphere in a smaller town. We need to show it off more.

Speaking of gay atmosphere in a smaller town, what was your opinion of Pride 2002: There's No Place Like Home?

It was amazing. It was my first ever KW and area Pride. I couldn't be there in drag due to another commitment earlier in the day but I was really amazed when I arrived on the island. I was very impressed by the community building that I saw. It was great to see all the tables with gay and gay friendly businesses and groups. I like the leather guys! The kids' area was cool too and I think that Muffy and Victoria did a great job performing. The whole week of events was truly diverse. The Pride Committee did a good job. I'm looking forward to working with the Tri- Pride 2003 Committee on any events they have in the works.

Any advice for new performers in our area or people who want to try performing?

Relax and have fun. That's what it's all supposed to be about. Having a few cocktails before a show doesn't hurt either! Find someone who's performed before to help show you the ropes and give you a hand when needed. Don't be afraid to try something new or put a new spin on an old number that's been done to death! Everyone should feel free to perform any song or in any style they choose. Come out to open drag night or feel free to dress up and stop by on the weekends.

What's your favourite part about being the current reigning Miss Club Renaissance?

My favourite part is definitely the nights when I have fun in the Club performing on stage. I love to involve the audience when I perform. You meet some cute boys that way! It's great being Miss Club Renaissance.. I feel like I'm part of a great big family.

Catch Bang Bang and friends at Club Renaissance's open Drag Night, the first Wednesday of every month.

Why Volunteer For Tri-Pride 2003?

submitted by Mike Ritter

Most people think that I am crazy when they hear about how much volunteer work I do in a year.

You feel you're too busy to volunteer? Get in line. Much like you, I have a business to run, clients to serve and a private life. I donate to charity, attend too many fundraising events and pay dues to an assortment of organizations. Why? I make time to volunteer because I feel that it's worth it!

I find that volunteering for groups adds meaning to my life. It's a way of giving back to the community that I live in. After all, volunteers can accomplish things that local businesses and civic associations do but in a way that money can't.

Personally, I volunteer because I care about my community's prosperity and future. I volunteer because it DOES matter.

Do you appreciate high quality in the events and efforts of your local groups, including the Pride Committee? Don't bitch unless you're willing to help out.

Pride takes a lot of work. I know. I've volunteered my time and muscles over the years for London Pride, Toronto Pride and one of the biggest mothers of them all, San Francisco Pride.

A little effort on a volunteer's part can make a BIG difference in an event. Sometimes, events get planned but never happen because there's no one to help and volunteer the time and effort.

I volunteer because I have something to offer, and I want to see the organizations I belong to produce excellence in all their events and efforts. We need to work together and quit fighting amongst ourselves.

Would you like to do more business or increase your exposure? Volunteering can do that for you. Give selflessly of your time, energy and talents, as much as you can afford. Others will take notice and be attracted to you. They will get to know you as a person, not just as another name on an email list.

By volunteering, I've gotten to know many of the members in the groups I belong to. I have built relationships, recognition and credibility that could not be obtained solely with an advertising budget. I don't have to like everyone in a group to be able to work with them. Why not lend a hand? Are a couple of hours a week all you can spare? Fantastic! A couple hours a month? That's plenty! And the ways you can participate are plentiful, too. And if you can't, perhaps you can support someone else that can!

The Tri-Pride 2003 Committee will be doing some fundraising soon. Get involved! Share your ideas. Come out to the meeting and let yourself be heard.

I had an amazing time attending five different 2002 Pride celebrations across Ontario. Toronto, of course, ranks as number one because, face it, you can't beat it. But what really surprised me was how cool KW and area Pride was this year. It reminded me what Pride is really all about community and celebration. Be proud of who you are and where you live.

I heard a few complaints about the Pride Committee's lack of events in Guelph over the years. If you want my advice, quit complaining. I have found that if you want things to happen to happen in your area, YOU need to volunteer.

The best part of volunteering? The satisfaction of seeing a job well done!

Only Her Hairdresser Knows For Sure: LGBT Trivia!

by Marilyn Barber

I've been a little lazy this summer so when the Pride Committee called to remind me that a deadline was looming, I decided to surf the Net and see how much LGBT trivia I could find.

Did you know that the pink triangle when used as a gay symbol is actually called a Rosawinkel? The pink triangle badge was used by Nazis to identify homosexuals in the concentration camps. A German gay rights organization campaigning for compensation for gay camp survivors reclaimed the name and symbol.

American painter Romaine

Brooks was born on May 1, 1875. In 1915, while living in Paris, Brooks met and fell in love with writer Natalie Barney, with whom she spent the next fifty years, building a home together, sharing a bank account, and even arranging to be buried together.

The Group (1966) was the first mainstream Hollywood film to use the word "lesbian". It starred Candace Bergen in the lesbian role. If any has a copy, let me know. That gal is YUMMY!

In Berlin in 1919, Magnus Hirschfeld produced the first film depicting positive images of gay life, Anders als die Anders (Different from the Others). Candice Bergen, sadly, was NOT in that film.

Charles Socarides was one of the most vocal anti-gay psychiatrists of the 1950s and 1960s. He claimed he was able to cure homosexuality. Guess the cure didn't work, at least not on his own gay son Richard Socarides who went on to become President Clinton's liaison to the lesbian and gay community.

In 1987, the Homomonument was, um, erected in Amsterdam, Holland, by designer Karin Daan. The monument has three pink granite triangles that interlock, commemorating victims of homophobia.

French writer Andre Gide (1869-1951) was the first out-gay man to receive a Nobel Prize for Literature. The prize was awarded to him in 1947.

The top Hollywood box office star of the 1930s was actor William Haines, "America's Smart Aleck" who lived in an openly gay relationship with Jimmy Shields for almost fifty years. The story of his private life has been explored and published in the recent bio Wisecracker: The Life and Times of William Haines, Hollywood's First Openly Gay Star, by William J. Mann.

Metropolitan Community Church (MCC) was founded by the Rev. Troy Perry. Perry was a Pentecostal minister until 1967, when he was excommunicated after refusing to denounce his homosexuality.

David Kopay was the first professional football player to come out as gay. While Kopay disclosed his sexual orientation after his playing career had already ended, he was unable to get a coaching job as a result of this disclosure and ended up working at his uncle's linoleum store.

In July of 1997, Harvard University became the first major university to allow same-sex couples to hold commitment ceremonies in the school's main chapel.

Gay Comics. D.C. Comics has produced a four-book miniseries, Metropolis S.C.U. (Special Crimes Unit), in which the main character is Captain Maggie Sawyer, a lesbian superhero.

In 1986, William Hurt became the first actor to win an Academy Award for Best Actor for his portrayal of a gay character. The film? Kiss Of The Spiderwoman.

In 1933, a flashy, rhinestone studded pianist named Wladziu Valentino Liberace dropped two of his names and paved the way for over the top flamboyance in popular entertainment.

According to lead Munchkin Jerry Maren, the "little people" on the set of The Wizard of Oz (1939) were paid $50 per week for a 6-day work week, while Toto received $125 per week. Mind you, I'd want more money too if I had to be that close to Judy's booze breath!
